

Reading Activities

- Fictional Yearbook Entry
 - Create a yearbook page based on the characters and setting in the book. What do they look like? Cut out magazine pictures to give a good visual image for their school picture or draw them. What kind of superlative might they get? Best looking? Class Clown? What clubs would they be in or lead? Did they win any awards?
- Book Buffet Reading Project
 - Create a 3D model of food, with each section telling something different about the book. Here are some pictures.
 - Click here for directions.
- T-Shirt Book Report
 - Decorate a plain t-shirt (here's some inspiration)
 - Here are the directions
- Cereal Box TV Book Report

Writing Activities

- Write a creative story. Try dividing the story into chapters.
- Start a journal describing how you are spending your days without school. What is different? What do you miss? What are the positive things that have come from this?
- Here's a list of all different writing prompts.
- Participate in the EduBlogs Blogging Challenge again!

STEAM Activities

- Continue working on your Genius Hour project!
- Choose an activity from this site.
- Or more from here.
- Make a challenge course with painter's tape in a hallway, like this.

Math Activities

- Continue working on your Theme Park trip on NextLesson
- PRACTICE YOUR MULTIPLICATION FACTS!

- Plan your dream room. Measure your room to know how much space you have. Shop for your items online and see what your total cost would be if you could buy anything you wanted!
- Choose your favourite cookie recipe and try making a double(triple?) batch...how much of each ingredient would you need?

Art Activities

- Find rocks and decorate them with paint and make a beautiful rock garden. Make a new one everyday that relates to something you did that day as a way of documenting your time at home.
- Do an art project you've always wanted to try
- Make a paper chain wall hanging
- Try starting this 30 Day Creativity Challenge. Take pictures of all your creations to document your learning.

Other Ideas

- Find a new recipe to try. Film yourself going through the process like you are on your own cooking show.
- Keep track of all the meals you make for Passover and make a Passover cookbook to share with family and friends.
- Write a play and make roles for you and your family to play. Create props, backdrops, and costumes.
- Plan a scavenger hunt to send to all your extended family members to play from their own homes. Try using the ChooseChase app to be able to see everyone's entries
- Develop an exercise routine and film yourself. Share with your friends or teachers for us to do for gym after the break.
- See if you can continue reading to your reading buddy while you're on break.
- Help your parents by cleaning your room/closet/basement/garage...
